Within the past half hour I've heard from 2 Superior Court ADAs in Springfield saying that my cases scheduled for yesterday (Monday) and today are going forward and that I will be needed in Springfield tomorrow (unless I hear otherwise, I am suppose to be there at 11:30 for one case, and possibly earlier for the other one). I'm hoping that this does not cause a problem with the [REDACTED] case. There is a slim chance that the 11:30 one will plea, and I'll let you know if I hear anything about it or the other case. Depending on what happens, I'm hoping that I will be available to you at some point during the day. Is there a specific phone number I should call when I find out more about what is going on? Thanks, and I apologize again.

I have you on call for the next two days. I anticipate Wednesday ([REDACTED] being more likely to go than tommorow ([REDACTED]). Thanks!

Forget what I just told you about my possible conflict on Jan. 26 - it looks like the defendant in the Superior Court case has decided to plea. Thanks.

My schedule just changed. Told the Defendant we are going to trial next week and he said now he wanted to plea. Sorry for the false alarm. Thank you so much for making yourself available!!!

My schedule has changed, but 1/26 is still the best day for me next week. I do have a District Court case scheduled in Chicopee that day, and I'm trying to get in touch with the ADA to see where that case stands. I'll explain the situation to him, and if he definitely needs me, I'll try to convince him to go out of order and put me on first so I can get to Pittsfield after (or I could reverse the order if that would be better for you). I really doubt that I will be needed in Chicopee, though, as none of the chemists here have had to testify there is recent memory.

Hi Sonja. I had e-mailed you last month about your availability and you told me that 1/26 was good for you (you had a summons for 1/25 for Belchertown and 1/27 for Springfield). Assuming that is still good, I'll send you a summons for 1/26 for my case (sorry, looked like your only day off). Case name is [REDACTED], case # [REDACTED]. This would be at Berkshire Superior Court.
